Success story #1

THALES

"The first studio paid for itself after just six shoots."

Multiple Rapidmooc studios have been installed across various Thales Group locations in France and the UK. Initially acquired for creating video training courses, they are now also widely used for internal communication purposes

"It's a game-changer for training at Thales, offering complete user autonomy at a reduced cost."

Success story #2

One click to professional video content

Queen Margaret University
EDINBURGH

Rapidmooc was introduced to QMU with the intention of streamlining video creation and to reduce their filming and editing time. The platform was designed to be simple, so educators and experts could film professional quality videos on their own, without the need of an audio visual team.
